Welcome and Instructions
BEST ONLINE EDUCATION PROGRAMS
Online Data Collection

U.S. News & World Report is now collecting data on distance education master’s degree programs in education. Because the universe of schools offering these programs is constantly growing, please answer question 2 in this questionnaire to inform U.S. News whether in academic year 2014-2015 your regionally accredited institution will be offering an online master's in education degree program.

If your answer is 'no', your only remaining step will be to submit; ensuring you will receive no further communications from U.S. News this year about the survey.

If your answer is 'yes', please complete the rest of the questionnaire. Responses will be used to compute a ranking for most programs. Also, all submitting programs will receive an individual profile page on the usnews.com searchable directory of distance education master's in education degree programs. Together, your ranking and profile will introduce your program(s) to prospective students throughout the world.

The most recent rankings -- published in January, 2014 -- can be viewed here: http://www.usnews.com/education/online-education

The deadline to submit this questionnaire is September 12, 2014.

The rest of this page has further instructions for completing the questionnaire:

Please Print These Instructions
This questionnaire should work in most modern browsers. It has been tested in Microsoft Internet Explorer 11.0, Mozilla Firefox 4.0 and Google Chrome 33.0

Opening the Questionnaire
All recipients of the questionnaire will have received an email from U.S. News & World Report containing a hyperlink to the data collection module and a unique username and password assigned to the academic institution. You can open the questionnaire by clicking this hyperlink from your email and entering the username and password in the designated fields.

Troubleshooting
If you lose your username or password, or if you have difficulty signing in for any reason, please contact your data collector whose name and contact information can be found by clicking the 'Help' link at the top of the data collection module screen.

See or Change Who Receives U.S. News Communications at Your School
If you would like to add or remove people who receive communications from U.S. News about online program questionnaire completion this year and in future years, this can be done in question 3 of the Contacts section. If your institution does not offer an online master’s in education degree program but would like to change the contacts on file for future years, please contact your U.S. News data collector whose name and contact information can be found by clicking the ‘Help’ link at the top of data collection module screen.

Granting Questionnaire Access to Colleagues Who Did Not Receive a U.S. News Email
To grant a colleague access to the questionnaire this year, send that colleague the user name, password and survey link you received in your email. You may also wish to add this person as a contact in question 3 if you would like this person to receive future communications from U.S. News in regards to the questionnaire.

Printing a Copy of a Questionnaire
To print a copy of the U.S. News questionnaire, click the "Print" link in the dark grey upper menu of the screen. Once the entire questionnaire appears on the screen (there will be no left-hand menu displayed) you can print it by using your browser's print function. You cannot enter data in this printable questionnaire form. To return to the questionnaire tool itself and be able to enter data, click the "Survey" link.

If you have any difficulty printing out the questionnaire, click on the "Help" link in the dark grey upper menu to find contact information for the U.S. News data collector assigned to your school.

Entering Data
To move between fields within the questionnaire, you may click on the field in which you wish to enter data or press the Tab key until you reach that field.

To move between individual pages of the questionnaire, click on the "Next" or "Previous" links at the bottom of the page. You may also click on the links listed in the left-hand side of the screen to navigate to any section of the questionnaire.

Skipping Questions
If you are unable to provide datum for a field then leave the field blank. Do not enter '0' (or any other datum) as a way of skipping the question. All data your school enter in this questionnaire may be interpreted by U.S. News as literal and published verbatim.

Saving Data
In most cases data will save automatically as they are entered. Furthermore, if you sign off from your questionnaire and log back in at a later time, the system will remember everything you entered until that point.

Some responses may generate a note in red type upon being entered asking you to reconsider your answer. Most likely this means you have entered a number that is too high or too low, typed the wrong type of character, or entered data that conflicts logically with responses to other questions. If you are confident that your answer is valid, please inform your U.S. News data collector using the "Help" tab in the dark grey section menu displayed toward the top of your screen.

All data that have been red flagged by the system will not save and will not be included in your data when the questionnaire has been submitted.

Getting Help
If you have questions or encounter problems while you are completing the questionnaire, first review this page to see if your question is addressed. If not, click the "Help" link and it will tell you whom to contact at U.S. News with questions about either the data or the U.S. News questionnaire process.

Signing Off of the Online Site
If you wish to leave the online site, click the "Sign Out" link in the upper-right hand corner of your screen on the blue background. You may return at any time to continue working on your questionnaire.

When You’ve Completed the Questionnaire
If your institution does not offer an online master’s in education degree program, you will be ready to submit your questionnaire after completing question 2. Otherwise, in order to submit the questionnaire, you will need to have completed the cell in question 39f requesting 2013-2014 total online master’s in education degree program student enrollment, or have opted out of it. You will also need to complete cells among questions 50a-50d asking about your online master’s in education degree program’s tuition for the 2014-2015 academic year. If you do not complete these cells you will be instructed to do so when trying to submit your questionnaire and will not be able to submit it until this is done.

When you are completely finished with the questionnaire and have no further changes or data to enter for this year, click "Next" on the last page of the "Career Outcomes" section or click the "Submission" link on the left-hand column of the screen. Both links will take you to a page that thanks you for completing the questionnaire and asks you to check a box acknowledging that upon submitting your questionnaire you will no longer be personally able to change any data in it. By checking this box and clicking the "Submit" button underneath, you are informing U.S. News that your questionnaire is completed.

If you have accidentally submitted your questionnaire, please contact the U.S. News data collector assigned to your school. The "Help" tab will still direct you to contact information. After submitting your questionnaire, you will also continue to be able to view your school’s data on this site.

Process after Submitting Questionnaire
Unlike with U.S. News’s annual questionnaires of face-to-face graduate programs, you will not receive a computer-generated assessment from U.S. News requesting you re-examine data entered for specific questions. However, U.S. News may follow-up with your school by phone or email about any responses given.

As a final step, all schools will be sent a webpage version of their completed questionnaire and be asked to verify with an online signature that their data are accurate, or to promptly provide corrections to their data collectors.

Viewing Your Data after Submitting the Questionnaire
You may still view your completed questionnaire after submitting it. However, at this point you will not be able to make changes online. If you need to make changes to the data, contact the U.S. News data collector assigned to your school. Your U.S. News data collector’s name can be found by clicking on the first page of the questionnaire or on the "Help" button.

Definitions of Terms in Questionnaire

Distance education: Education that uses one or more technologies to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor and to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor synchronously or asynchronously.

Distance education program: A degree program in which all required coursework for completion is able to be completed via distance education. With possible exceptions for orientation, testing and academic support services, students otherwise are never required to attend class in-person.

Face-to-face: The converse of distance education. Education in which students and instructional faculty are in the same classroom. A face-to-face student receives classes by this delivery mode.

OEDU students: The cohort of all students enrolled in your institution's distance education master's in education degree program, including any students who elect to attend their distance education program classes in-person. Students enrolled in programs with in-person attendance requirements besides orientation, testing and academic support services are not OEDU students.

OEDU faculty: The universe of instructional faculty who taught at least one course that was part of your institution's online master's in education degree program(s) being reported on in this questionnaire.

How Schools Must Report Data on Cohorts
For questions asking your institution to restrict its reporting to within a specified time period, please do so involving all unique persons involved at any point during that time period. For example, total students enrolled between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014 would be an unduplicated count of all persons who at one time during that 12 month period were enrolled in your online program.

How Schools with Multiple Programs Must Report Data
Questions asking for statistical data (e.g. counts, means) are to be derived from aggregated calculations across all online master's in education degree programs. For questions on program characteristics (e.g. application deadline, tuition), your responses must reflect the most typical experiences of your school's OEDU students and faculty, unless the question specifies otherwise.

About the Best Online Education Programs Rankings
This is the fourth year U.S. News is collecting data on online master's in education degree programs and the third year it will be publishing a ranking on usnews.com and most likely the Best Grad Schools guidebook.

Complementing this questionnaire will be a separate peer assessment survey administered by IPSOS research in which schools that were ranked in 2014 and others known to have online master's in education degree programs are asked to rate the quality of peer programs.

Programs initiated in 2014-2015 or with fewer than 10 students enrolled will be published as 'unranked'. However, they will still receive profiles in U.S. News's searchable directory, and may be eligible for a numeric ranking the following year.
A detailed methodology for the 2014 Best Online Education Programs ranking is published here: http://www.usnews.com/education/online-education/articles/2014/01/07/methodology-best-online-graduate-education-programs-rankings-2014

For reference, many questions used in last year’s ranking are assigned the following question numbers in this year’s survey:

11, 12, 65, 66, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 83, 88, 107: best practices

40: acceptance rate

42, 45, 46, 55: experience

49: GRE scores

56, 57: student indebtedness

64, 82: technological infrastructure

79, 80: support services

89: terminal degree faculty

91, 92, 93, 96: faculty preparedness to teach distance learners

94: tenured faculty

95: technical staff available to faculty

98, 99: class size

101, 106: time to degree deadline

102: one year retention rates

Questions 100 on class sizes and 103, 104 on graduation rates are new to this year’s survey and may be used to compute the ranking.

Much of the data collected from this survey (possibly including any of the above ranking indicators) will not be used to compute the 2015 ranking but will still be published on usnews.com in order to give prospective students information on program characteristics. They may also be used in future usnews.com shortlists or rankings, such as the Best Online Education Programs for Veterans ranking.

Contact your data collector with questions specific to completing this survey. If you have broader queries regarding the Best Online Education Programs ranking methodology, which schools qualify to be ranked or unranked, U.S. News publications or how these statistical questionnaires are used in the rankings, contact Eric Brooks at ebrooks@usnews.com.

On behalf of the data collectors, reporters, and editors here at U.S. News and our many appreciative readers, thank you for your time and effort.

2. Will your regionally accredited institution offer any online master's of education (OEDU) programs in academic year 2014-2015?

(Definition: An online master's in education degree program (or 'OEDU program') is a master's in education degree program for which all the required coursework for program completion is able to be completed via distance education courses that incorporate Internet-based learning technologies. Distance education courses are courses that deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor and support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor synchronously or asynchronously. Note: Requirements for coming to campus for orientation, testing or academic support services do not exclude a program from being classified as an OEDU program.)

- Offers at least one credit-granting course or program that is the same as one of the courses or programs listed in any of the Defense Activities for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) catalogs. These catalogs include the DANTES Independent Study Catalog, the DANTES Catalog of Nationally Accredited Distance Learning Programs and the DANTES External Degree Catalog.
  - Yes
  - No

23. Is the entirety of your institution's OEDU program requirements 100 percent online accessible to students? This includes any orientations, group projects and exams.

- Yes
- No
- Depends

If you selected "no" or "depends", please select each of the following OEDU curriculum elements that at least sometimes require in-person student attendance.

- Orientations
- Classes
- Group projects/simulations
- Exams

24. Does your institution's OEDU program admit international applicants who intend to earn their degrees predominantly from abroad?

- Yes
- No

If yes, may these students complete the program entirely from outside the United States?

- Yes
- No

25. Are your institution's distance master's in education students typically integrated with face-to-face master's in education students into the same classes?

- Yes
- No, distance education students and face-to-face students are separate.
- Not applicable, face-to-face master's level education courses are not offered

You may skip to question 32 if the following questions preceding it do not apply.

26. Are admissions requirements for distance education master's in education students the same as requirements for face-to-face education students?

- Yes
- No

27. When students enroll in courses in which distance education master's in education students and face-to-face students are integrated, must these students designate by which delivery method they will be taking these courses?

- Program students designate if they will take a given course online or face-to-face, at which point they are obligated to the delivery method they selected unless they drop the course.
- Program students designate if they will take a given course online or face-to-face, but may be eligible to switch delivery methods while continuing their course progress upon giving proper notice to teachers/administrators and paying any applicable fees
  ◆ Program students designate if they will be online or face-to-face, but may elect to take classes by either method without notifying anyone
  ◆ Program students do not need to designate how they will receive courses
  ◆ Not applicable
  ◆ Other:

39. Enrollment Figures

The following question asks about OEDU total degree seeking student enrollment (students specific to distance education programs), including students who matriculated before the years specified. Please complete the following table as well as your data and history allow. Report unduplicated student counts. If the count for any cell is zero, enter "0".

Note that the minority category refers to all U.S. students who fall in one of these groups — Black or African American, Asian, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander, Hispanic/Latino, or two or more races.

For each row in the table below, report counts from the pool of all students enrolled in your institution’s distance education master’s in education programs — in which all required coursework for program completion besides academic support services, orientations and testing are accessible to all students online. These counts must include any students enrolled in such programs who had the option to attend courses in person. Do not include in your counts students enrolled in programs with in-person attendance requirements other than academic support services, orientations and testing.

If you cannot provide total enrollment data (row f) because your institution only has blended records of students enrolled in distance education and non-distance education programs, check the box underneath.

40. Admissions Figures

The following question asks about OEDU student admissions (students specific to distance education programs). Please complete the following table, supplying unduplicated counts from the same cohort of individuals for each of the categories below. If the count for any cell is zero, enter "0".

Applicants should include only those students who fulfilled the requirements for consideration for admission (i.e., who completed actionable applications) and who have been notified of one of the following actions: admission, non-admission, placement on waiting list, or application withdrawn (by applicant or institution).

Report counts from the pool of individuals who applied to distance education master’s in education degree programs at your institution — in which all required coursework for program completion besides academic support services, orientations and testing are accessible to all students online. These counts must include any admitted individuals who had the option to attend courses in-person. Do not include in your counts any individuals who applied to programs with in-person attendance requirements other than academic support services, orientations and testing.

If your institution is NOT able to report online master’s in education degree admissions figures for 2013-2014 because during the 2013-2014 academic year its education degree programs integrated distance education and face-to-face student records, check the box underneath.

50. Please answer the following questions about your institution's typical OEDU program tuition and the total of any mandatory fees over the course of the program:

If your institution administers multiple OEDU programs that charge different tuitions, then provide the tuition for the program with largest enrollment. If your institution's OEDU program does not charge on a per-credit basis, then provide a calculation of what that program typically costs students per-credit.

The 2014–2015 cells for either both rows a and b, or both rows c and d, must have responses in order to submit your survey.

65. Who typically reviews your institution's OEDU coursework to determine if they meet Americans with Disabilities Act compliance?

- Individual faculty are responsible for compliance
- Academic units are responsible for compliance
- A central office reviews each course
- A central office reviews a sample of courses
- No pre-determined procedure

66. Who primarily designs the majority of OEDU courses?

- People with instructional designer graduate certificates or degrees
- People without instructional designer graduate certificates or degrees

67. By what process does your institution typically have OEDU courses designed?

- Course design is outsourced
- Course design is developed in-house

68. Does your institution use a learning management system for OEDU programs?

- Yes
- No

If yes, which software does your institution use?

- Adobe Connect
- Blackboard
- Blackboard Collaborate
- Blackboard Connect
- Blackboard Learn
- Blackboard Mobile
- Blackboard WebCT
- Canvas
- Claroline
- Desire2Learn
- Edvance360
- Google Applications
- LoudCloud
- Microsoft Sharepoint Learning Kit
- Moodle
- OLAT
69. Does your institution require that its new OEDU students complete an orientation before they gain access to their classes?
   - Yes
   - No, but there is an optional orientation available
   - No, there is no orientation available

70. Do your institution’s OEDU faculty at least sometimes administer exams (assessments that students submit the same days they receive them)?
   - Yes
   - No

If OEDU exams are never administered, please skip to question 73.

71. By which method are your OEDU exams administered online to students?
   - Online, visually monitored (students required to be visible by web video)
   - Online, non-visually monitored (students not required to be visible by web video)
   - Exams are not accessible to students online

72. By which method are your OEDU exams administered in supervised test centers?
   - Proctored in one geographic setting, such as your institution’s main campus
   - Proctored in multiple geographically dispersed settings
   - Exams are not administered to students in supervised test centers

73. Please briefly describe in the field below the most significant technological and non-technological measures taken by your institution to instill academic integrity of OEDU student exams and coursework:
   This is the department’s responsibility, but a faculty advisory set up by the Provost and facilitated by Extended Learning, the support group for OEDU

74. Before they are able to have online access to their courses, are newly matriculated OEDU students first required to read and sign a statement agreeing to abide by specific ethical guidelines?
   - Yes
   - No

75. Does your OEDU program require that all essay-based homework, papers or exams students submit for a grade must be screened by an anti-plagiarism service?
   - Yes
   - No
   - Depends on the instructor or the assignment
   - Not applicable

If not applicable, please explain why:

76. Does your institution have a policy — standardized among all OEDU courses and accessible to students and faculty — about copyright ownership of OEDU course materials?
   - Yes
   - No

77. Do all courses in your OEDU program have end of course evaluations administered to students?
   - Yes
   - No
78. What was the non-weighted mean student response rate per course for end of course evaluations administered across your OEDU program classes between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014. For example, if there were three courses with response rates of 50%, 55%, and 65%, the mean student response rate among them would be the sum divided by three, equaling 57% after rounding. Report as a whole percentage.

35%

79. Which of the following services are provided online to OEDU students? Please select all that apply:

- Academic advising
- Bookstore
- Career placement assistance
- E-mail address
- Financial aid office/services
- Access to digitized library materials
- Access to live librarian
- Local area network
- Mentoring
- Technical support
- Live tutoring
- Writing workshops

80. Does your institution make available live technical support for OEDU students 24/7?

- Yes
- No

If yes, please skip to question 82.

81. When is live technical help available to OEDU students enrolled in your online degree programs? Please select all that apply.

- Weekend days (7:00 am – 5:59 pm) Rarely
- Weekend nights (6:00 pm – 9:59 pm) Sometimes
- Weekend overnights (10:00 pm – 6:59 am) Never
- Weekdays (7:00 am – 5:59 pm) Always
- Weeknights (6:00 pm – 9:59 pm) Usually
- Weekday overnights (10:00 pm – 6:59 am) Never

82. Which types of learner interaction software are integrated with your OEDU program’s learning management system? Please select all that apply:

- Online chatrooms
- Web conferencing (webinars)
- Skype or other visual software

83. How many hours a week on average, if any, do faculty keep ‘office hours’ in which OEDU students can communicate with their instructors at fixed times live and by remote methods (telephone, Skype)?

30 hours/week

84. Does your institution expect instructors to respond to emails/voicemails from OEDU students within a specific, pre-determined timeframe?

- Yes
- No
85. What percentage of OEDU classes at your institution incorporate lectures, including all those delivered either live or live-to-tape?

- None
- 1-25%
- 26-50%
- 51-75%
- 76-99%
- All

86. Do instructors at your institution typically track participation of OEDU students in the following ways? Please check all that apply.

- Monitor whether OEDU students login to their online courses.
- Review OEDU student interaction and course participation.
- Personally provide feedback to OEDU students on their interaction and course participation.

87. Is the quality of class participation typically factored into final OEDU student grades at your institution?

- Yes
- No

88. Do courses in your OEDU programs typically require students to work cooperatively with other students online on group projects such as portfolios and papers?

- Participation in collaborative group projects is required in all courses
- Participation in collaborative group projects is required in at least half of courses
- Participation in collaborative group projects is required in less than half of courses
- Participation in collaborative group projects is never required

89. Please answer the following questions about the number of OEDU faculty at your institution between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014. You must report both full-time and part-time faculty counts (not just total faculty) for the rankings calculation. If your program has zero full-time or part-time faculty, enter '0' for that cell.

An OEDU faculty member is any faculty member who was the instructor for at least one OEDU course during this time period:

90. Among all your institution’s total instructors who taught OEDU classes between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014 (question 89a), what was the mean number of years they have been teaching classes offered to OEDU students?

91. Does your institution currently administer or fully finance any formal training courses for OEDU faculty on online teaching best practices?

- Yes
- No

92. Do one of the following conditions apply to all classes in your OEDU program?

Each class has an OEDU instructor who received formal training in teaching to distance education students before s/he was allowed to teach any classes AND/OR pairs its instructor with a staff member who has formal training in distance education and facilitates delivery of the class to distance learners.
Yes
No

If yes, how many hours in training?

93. If you responded 'yes' to the preceding question, does your institution require continuing training for these instructors or staff with formal training?
Yes
No

94. Of the full-time OEDU faculty reported in question 89a, how many are tenured or are full-time tenure-track?

95. In the top field below, report the number full-time staff members your institution employed as of October 15, 2013 to offer technical assistance to OEDU faculty members. Your count must include all staff members who were employed to be available to provide technical assistance to at least one OEDU faculty member.

In the second field, do the same for total number of part-time staff.
In the bottom field, provide an unduplicated count of all faculty members at your institution who are assisted by technical staff from the above two fields.

7 part-time technical staff employed to assist faculty that includes OEDU faculty to 500.0 faculty members at your institution these staff are employed to assist

96. Has your institution established a formal, written system of peer review for OEDU instructors?
Yes
No

97. Does your institution have written standardized guidelines that apply specific standards for evaluating the educational effectiveness of OEDU classes?
Yes, there are written formal guidelines
No, there are only informal guidelines
There are no guidelines

98. Do courses in your OEDU programs typically have a maximum class size? Programs in which distance education students are integrated with face-to-face students must include face-to-face students in reporting.
Yes
No

If yes, what is the maximum class size allowed within the program?
20

99. What was the average class size for courses in your OEDU program on October 15, 2013? OEDU programs in which distance education students are integrated with face-to-face students must include face-to-face students in reporting.
17

100. In the table below, please report for each of the following class-size intervals the number of class sections offered by your institution’s OEDU program between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014.
A class section is an organized course offered for credit in your institution’s OEDU program, identified by discipline and number, and not a subsection such as a laboratory or discussion session.

101. Which best describes what will be your school’s target length of time to graduation, if any, for a student newly enrolling in your OEDU program between July 1, 2014 and June 30, 2015?

For example, if your institution markets its OEDU program to prospective students as a ‘two year degree program’, your response would be two years. This two year figure would account for some students possibly needing additional time to graduate if they do not stay continuously matriculated or need to retake a course. This figure would also account for some students possibly being able to graduate in shorter amounts of time if they are permitted to skip courses or take atypically large courseloads.

If your school does not have a target time to graduate, please compute this figure based on how much time a continuously matriculated student who does not drop, fail, or skip any courses and takes the most common program course load would need to graduate. For example, if students in your program most frequently take two courses per term, and if a student taking two courses per term who does not drop, fail, or skip any classes will graduate in two years, your response would be two years.

If your institution operates multiple programs of differing lengths, report the length of your program with largest enrollment in 2013-2014.

3 years

102. Please answer this question the best your data and history allow:

a. For the cohort of all OEDU students who first enrolled in your institution OEDU program between July 1, 2012 and June 30, 2013, what percentage re-enrolled anytime within 12 months of their first enrollment? Programs that integrate online and face-to-face students must consider students who switched from online to face-to-face course delivery between terms as retained only in cases when credits earned through the two delivery modes are fully interchangeable. Note that the initial cohort can be adjusted ONLY for the number of students who departed to serve on official church missions, or in a recognized foreign aid service of the U.S. government; who died, or who became permanently disabled.

% b. First enrolled between July 1, 2011 and June 30, 2012, re-enrolled anytime within the next 12 months?

% c. First enrolled between July 1, 2010 and June 30, 2011, re-enrolled anytime within the next 12 months?

% d. First enrolled between July 1, 2009 and June 30, 2010, re-enrolled anytime within the next 12 months?

103. Which among the academic years below is the earliest year your institution offered an OEDU program that enrolled at least ten new entrants?

- July 1, 2010 - June 30, 2011
- July 1, 2011 - June 30, 2012
- July 1, 2012 - June 30, 2013
- None of the above years had ten new entrants

104. The following question asks for information needed to calculate graduation rates. Your counts must aggregate data from all of your institution’s OEDU programs that operated during the corresponding academic year.

If your institution administered an OEDU program(s) that enrolled at least ten new entrants in its initial cohort across the July 1, 2010-June 30, 2011 academic year then only complete the leftmost column with header July 1, 2010-June 30, 2011. If your institution did not enroll at least ten new entrants in its OEDU program(s) initial cohort throughout the July 1, 2010-June 30, 2011 academic year then instead complete whichever column below corresponds to the oldest cohort in which your institution enrolled at least ten new entrants. If your institution did not enroll at least ten new entrants to its OEDU program(s) initial cohort during any of the below academic years then you may skip this question.

Note that students who departed to serve in the armed services are not to be included in your count of exclusions.

(Students who do not earn their degrees within this deadline may be required to retake coursework, start the program over again, or be finished with the program altogether.)

- Yes
- No

If yes, which best describes the length of time in which OEDU students at your institution are required to earn their degrees? If your institution operates multiple programs of differing lengths, report the length of your program with largest enrollment in 2013-2014.
